STATE APPROVAL GIVEN TO MARKET

THE MILLER'S GRANT COMMUNITY IN HOWARD COUNTY

As of November 30, 2010, the Maryland Department of Aging has given official approval of the revised feasibility study for the proposed retirement community in Howard County known as The Lutheran Village at MILLER'S GRANT. The approval allows Carroll Lutheran Village and the MILLER'S GRANT Board to proceed with the marketing of MILLER'S GRANT, consisting of 240 apartments and homes, 20 assisted living units, and 12 comprehensive care beds.

Carroll Lutheran Village has hired three marketing associates to work under the direction of Steve Stewart, VP of Marketing and Public Relations, and with Nancy Testerman, Marketing Office Coordinator at the Welcome Center at the MILLER'S GRANT site in Ellicott City. They are Charles Anthony, Joyce Diggs and Donna Gurfolino. Anthony has considerable experience in sales, marketing, public relations and advertising. Diggs brings to the job 20 years of experience in real estate sales and continuing education of agents. Gurfolino, likewise, has real estate sales experience, having been a top producer for Long & Foster.

Steve Stewart indicates that the approved revised feasibility study is significant for prospective residents of MILLER'S GRANT since it "provides the advantages of reduced entrance and monthly fees as well as enhanced programs.” With Carroll Lutheran Village as its accredited model and seasoned exemplar, Stewart continues, “MILLER’S GRANT will give prospective residents in the region the opportunity to experience health and wellness programming and growth opportunities that a faith-based non-profit can provide in continuing care retirement living.”
